

28 Designs

These designs feature the days of week in Spanish with Mexican inspired designs. With this collection you can create the look of hand embroidered designs on your embroidery machine! The designs look like redwork, but actually stitches are repeated 7 times to mimic the look of hand embroidered threads. English titles for the days of the week are included in the designs as well!

These designs may look like your typical redwork designs but they are actually quite different. Each stitch repeats 7 times to mimic hand embroidery thread. The look is quite different and unique! There are also English titles for each day of the week included as well. We created tea towels for this collection using white cotton toweling with decorative fabric as a border.
